

I fully support XM satellite radio's right to provide it's listeners with local content such as traffic and weather. Satellite radio is by far the best medium to hit the airwaves since the advent of FM radio. AM and FM radio have dismally failed to provide the variety and content of programming that is made possible by satellite radio. The government has no right to censor that content for the economic benefit of powerful lobbies such as the NAB. As a paying customer of XM satellite radio, I do not feel the NAB should be telling me what I should or shouldn't listen to. I urge the FCC to reject petition 04-160 submitted by the NAB.
